Textual criticism is a branch of textual scholarship, philology, and literary criticism that is concerned with the identification of textual variants in either manuscripts or printed books. Scribes can make alterations when copying manuscripts by hand. Given a manuscript copy, several or many copies, but not the original document, the textual critic might seek to reconstruct the original text ...

Tuomi et al. show that a common (about 30%) human type 2 diabetes risk variant of the melatonin receptor 1B gene affects insulin release. A recall-by-genotype study demonstrated that melatonin treatment inhibits insulin secretion, with at-risk carriers exhibiting higher glucose levels. Melatonin might have a protective role in preventing nocturnal hypoglycemia.
